- 9. Library

Popularly known as Sapru House Library, the ICWA Library has emerged as a premier resource centre for Indian and foreign scholars during the past six decades. Functioning since 1955, it houses a rich collection on international relations, international law, international economy, foreign policy, and also books on political history and social sciences etc. It functions as a research library with a stock of more than 148000 documents including books (thousands of them are rare), bound volumes of journals, maps, special collections of UN documents and EU documents. The Library is automated and uses RFID Technology (Radio-Frequency IDentification Technology) for the entire collection of books, journals, UN & EU documents. The inventory is searchable through Online Public Access Catalogue (OPAC) within the library premises. List of New Arrivals is also published on the ICWA website regularly.

About 350 rare books, old editions of newspapers-especially the Hindu for the period 1933 to 2004 and press clippings on international affairs from 1960 to 1990 are also available in digital format, which have frequently been referred by researchers and experts in the field of world affairs in India and abroad. The entire collection of the ICWA journal – India Quarterly is also accessible in digitized form at the library. The documents of the first Asian Relations Conference held in March 1947 are also available in digital format. A state of the art Cyber Library is available in the reading hall with in-house access to the electronic contents and information, viz., digital collection of newspapers, newspapers clippings as well as rare books, journals' databases, Delnet's data resources and internet browsing facility. The Library has arrangements with other libraries to facilitate consultation of their resources for ICWA scholars on the basis of their ID cards issued by the Council.

The Library remains open on Monday- Friday: 0900hrs-1900hrs and on Saturday: 0900hrs-1700hrs.

While the existing rules of membership of the ICWA Library continues to be in force, the library resources have also been made available for access and study on a non-borrowing basis to students and researchers of Indian universities and high schools, subject to show of valid identity cards issued by their respective institutions. This consulting facility would also be available to: a) Representatives of Indian think tanks with valid identification documents issued by their respective organizations, b) Media personnel based on their PIB registration cards, and c) Members of foreign diplomatic missions based in Delhi with identity cards issued by the Ministry of External Affairs.

Arrangements for safekeeping of personal belongings of users in separate lockers are also available. Users can contact the reception desk at the library for this purpose. Xerox facility is available for users at a nominal fee of Rs. one per page.

To further establish the Sapru House Library as a premier research institution, there is need for it to be equipped with exhaustive research material and documentation in niche areas of Indian foreign policy. Amid the constraints of reduced staff strength and the need to strike a balance with the steadily growing utilization of Library resources and facilities in addition to the persistent challenge of upgrading them, suitable actions are being undertaken to foster a user-friendly and efficient environment. The library is being renovated to make it more user-friendly with better reading environment. We are also exploring the possibilities to collaborate with other libraries to establish better resource sharing for our users. Special attention is also being given to procure more books on international affairs in Hindi for the convenience of our Hindi knowing scholars.
