India Quarterly, the journal of the Indian Council of World Affairs, in collaboration with Tibetscapes, IIT Madras, is calling for original contributions for a special issue on India's borderlands. The special issue will be published in the first issue of the journal in March 2023. The papers would be published online on SAGE's Online First platform from January 2023 onwards.

India Quarterly is the leading peer reviewed Indian journal of international affairs published since 1945. Its abstracted in Scopus, Proquest, ESCI, among others and published by SAGE.

Papers must present primary research on India's borderlands with reference to their political history, geo-politics, cross-border migration, regional environmental urgency, trans-boundary effects, resource competition and state-making. Papers deploying a borderlands lens are especially welcome, though the call is open to other multi-disciplinary interpretive frameworks. The papers must not exceed 8000 words including endnotes and references and comply with the editorial guidelines and referencing requirements of the IQ available at <https://journals.sagepub.com/author-instructions/IQQ>

If you are a scholar with upcoming book on South Asian borderlands, Himalayan Studies or Tibetan studies and would like to have your book reviewed in this issue, please do contact us.
